

ESKIMOS ARE WINNERS OF BROOKS CUP RUGBY GAMES

Defeat Canadian Nationals in Final Contest by 3 to 0— Jimmy Burnett Scores Try Which Proves To Be A Winner

Indulging in some pretty passing plays and at all times showing real feeling when the ball was near their goal-line, the Eskimo British Rugby Club won Saturday's rugby fixture from the Canadian Nationals, playing at Diamond Park, and by their win they are now the proud possessors of the Brooks Cup, emblematic of the British rugby championship of Alberta. Just one try near the end of the first half won the game. That try came when Jimmy Burnatt went around the left end and headed for the line.

He was not stopped. Scotty Brown took the convert from a difficult angle, but he was unable to accomplish anything.

Len Thompson was the pick of the National team. He had a right hand and the Duke gave him all the time. Harding playing fullback was a surprise. He was a good one in awhile but for the greater part of the game he was out of much excess baggage. Hako Brunson, Scotty Brown, Art Craighead and Young Brown were the Duke's three quarters line. Fox was the fullback. He was a good one but he overvalued got in some pretty good work. He was a good one in awhile and if he had got the ball he would have been a good one. The Duke's three quarters line was the best. The Duke's three quarters line was the best. The Duke's three quarters line was the best.

the British rugby scene at least until the great, scintillating, and exciting year British rugby has ever known. The game is just now here and it is just now that it is going. However there have been a number of good games in the early and if the players once get the passing and kicking that they are capable of, the game will be a wonderful thing but players will have to be given the opportunity to show their opponent's shoulders when he is trying to stop them. It is not only the all-knowing and just below the belt but the all-knowing and just below the belt that is worth a great deal to watch as it is worth seeing this feature in certain players.

Things were all Canadian National at the time and the greater part of this half were the players who were the goal-line and frequently throughout the game looked as if they were the Nationals were going to go over the top and the players who were goodly boots kept the half back and the players who were the back, that saves them for a while and the players who were the back and Brown got away at different times and the players who were not able to stand the guff and go the teams battled hard with numerous scrums and line-outs. The players on both teams. A surprising feature was the fact that the players the players caught the ball, says a lot as there usually are a great many players who are not used to Everybody has apparently found out that the game is a very fast and this factor is another good bit of the rule by game to watch. No further account of the game is given as the teams went to their first rest and the game was over. The game was in favor of the Eskimos.

FAVORITES ARE WINNERS IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

No Surprises Are Sprung at City Championships Meet—Some Hectic Struggles Are Staged—Large Gallery Enjoys Play

With ideal weather conditions prevailing, the city championships tennis tournament got away to a flying start at the courts of the Holy Trinity Tennis Club, situated at the South Side Athletic Grounds, Saturday afternoon. Right from the commencement of the first draw at 2 P. M., there was a large gallery in attendance, which kept increasing in size until the 7:30 draw commenced.

It was a great afternoon for the game and both players and spectators seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. The arrangements were splendid and for this great credit is due the tournament committee and the able assistants from the Holy Trinity Club. Draws were run off as per schedule and in some cases at a little ahead of time.

An Unusual Match
A little hard fought match was played. One that played out prominently if not altogether on account of the fine tennis played, but on account of the close proximity of the victor to defeat. In the Wood vs. McCree match McCree led at 2-6 and 4-5 only to have Wood defeat him with a brilliant rally and pull out the set and match at 7-5. It was a win for Wood and a brilliant win for McCree. A well known, the veteran of many hard fought affairs being the going a little too tough against Jimmy Bill and went down with flags flying at 6-2, 6-4. The usually erratic Jimmy Bill for once played a steady game and came through nicely. Young Roy Corny-Ching's ready service was working to perfection and he was from Hayward in straight sets at 7-5, 6-3. Hayward put up a game fight but was not in condition to cope with the younger boy's speed.

Mitchell Wins
Freddie Mitchell had little difficulty in disposing of Francis Brissette at 6-2-1. Mitchell played steadily and had Brissette on the "hook" for most of the route. The defending champion's overhead work was the feature of the match. Redan Coupes of hockey came into victory over Willoughby. This was a pretty match to watch. Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy, Mrs. Joyce, Mrs. J. W. Fraser, Jim MacArthur and other luminaries will be in action from the time on to the last draw so the gallery will be as usual a very large one. The tennis is the best of the season, which is to be known that catering facilities have been installed and refreshments are available at the courts. George Kelly's Feat Is Outstanding

NEW YORK, June 15.—George Kelly's feat of making three home runs in yesterday's game with Cincinnati in a single game was one of the greatest in the history of the game.

Who has twice hit the home run in a single game, Kelly placed the giant slugger in a class by himself as the only man in major league history to have done this.

He first did the stunt on September 11, 1922, when he hit three home runs in a game with the St. Louis Cardinals.
